THE PRINCIPAL & FOUNDER

Dr Keith Hearne (BSc MSc PhD)

Dr Hearne has been teaching hypnotherapy for over 15 years at the prestigious European College of Hypnotherapy – which he founded.

He is an internationally known psychologist who conducted the world's first sleep-laboratory research into 'lucid' dreams (in which the dreamer becomes aware of being in a dream) for his PhD - completed in 1978 at Liverpool University. In the course of that pioneering research, he invented the 'dream machine'. The original sleep-laboratory chart-records, and his 'dream machine' are on permanent display at the Science Museum in London.

He is a therapist of renown, has introduced many new techniques, and has published papers on his methods. His special method of transforming nightmares into lucid dreams is a very successful therapy, and his unique technique of hypno-encephalography (sequential tracing of dream images) has been shown in TV documentaries. He is on the Advisory Board of the General Hypnotherapy Standards Council.

Dr Hearne was an Inspector for the both the British Accreditation Council and the Open & Distance Learning Quality Council. Dr Hearne has also conducted and had published very many experiments in psychology and parapsychology - particularly in the fields of telepathy and premonitions. He ran BBC TV's Premonitions Bureau, linked with the Out of this World series.

Dr Hearne is frequently in the media, here and abroad - on TV, radio, in newspapers and many magazines. He has appeared on very many TV programmes, including GMTV, Richard and Judy (twice), Newsnight, Heaven & Earth (BBC1) (three times), Gloria Hunniford (twice), many documentaries, and chat shows. In one TV programme he successfully treated a lorry driver who experienced an unreasonable reluctance to advance to driving a heavier vehicle. Hypnotic regression established the cause as a forgotten childhood trauma. He has also been filmed for a Discovery Channel programme on sleep and dreams (in which he stopped a woman's nightmares) and he presented a 13-part series on the new 'alphabet-dream-code' technique.

Dr Hearne had, for over a year, a regular column in The Express newspaper every Thursday with David Melbourne, on dream interpretation.

Dr Hearne has authored or co-authored several books to date :

Hearne, K. (1989) Visions of the Future. Aquarian Press.

Hearne, K. (1990) The Dream Machine. Aquarian Press.

Melbourne, D. & Hearne, K. (1997) Dream Interpretation - the secret. Blandford Press.

Melbourne, D. & Hearne, K. (1998) The Dream Oracle. New Holland Publishers.

Hearne, K. & Melbourne, D. (2002) Understanding Dreams. Foulsham Publishers.

Melbourne, D. & Hearne, K. (1999) The Meaning of Your Dreams. Blandford Press.

(Several other books are pending, including two on hypnotherapy.)

(Dr Hearne's latest work, in collaboration with David Melbourne, has established an amazing new method of obtaining messages from the unconscious, via dreams, but without requiring interpretation. The new 'alphabet code' technique is described in their book 'The Dream Oracle' published by The Foulsham Press. The book is set to revolutionise therapy, including hypnotherapy).

HYPNOTHERAPY

Hypnotherapy is of course widely accepted today, and used very successfully for the alleviation and cure of many different problems such as long held phobias, weight control, giving up smoking, improving self-esteem, reducing stress, enhancing performance, dealing with traumas, and so on. The 1993 British Medical Association report 'Complementary Medicine - new approaches to good practice' expressed a positive interest in hypnotherapy from the medical profession.

Life-changing results can be achieved, and the power that brings about such change is within the unconscious - which is our friend, guide and adviser. However, the unconscious sometimes has a 'different agenda' to that of the conscious mind and the physical body, and this is where hypnotherapy is used to regain unity and harmony.

When you become a student with us, we not only train you in hypnotherapy to proud professional levels of excellence, but we care too for your self-development and encourage that seeking of inner understanding, so that you will be : better able to cope with relationships, better able to deal with stress, and better able to think of yourself as a success. You yourself can become more focused, more happy, and more relaxed.

The College sees itself at the vanguard of introducing new techniques into hypnotherapy. Its Principal, Dr Keith Hearne, has devised several new methods including the conversion of nightmares into pleasant lucid dreams, a way of externalising hypnotic imagery (hypno-oneirography), new pain - control procedures, a 'micro-IMR' system, and the concept of the virtual self. He also discovered the association-pathway in incremental regression. Articles about these techniques have appeared in several journals and popular magazines recently, including Positive Health and Kindred Spirit. Research constantly continues.

For too long, hypnotherapy has been an unregulated area. We are pleased that the situation is now changing – self-regulation has arrived in the form of the CNHC (Complementary and Natural Healthcare Council). An intrinsic part of the CNHC's acceptance of the GHSC (General Hypnotherapy Standards Council – which validates our courses), is that there should be agreed standards on training. Over two years of meetings, the criteria decided on are a Core Curriculum and Learning Outcomes, linked to the revised National Occupational Standards for Hypnotherapy. We have now restructured our Diploma in Hypnotherapy course to comply fully with those requirements.

During the present change-over period in hypnotherapy training in the UK, with the introduction of self-regulation, you may become a practising hypnotherapist through this College in either of TWO ways:

1. Attend a ten-day Intensive course over a fortnight (ie week-days), plus ONE weekend, that enables you to attain our Diploma in Hypnotherapy and join the GHR (General Hypnotherapy Register) as an Affiliate.

Bear in mind that requirements may come along at some future date that you must complete a full course. We may then be able to train you up, by arrangement, and take into account your previous training with us.

2. Attend our full professional Advanced Diploma in Hypnotherapy course – meeting the agreed Core Curriculum and Learning Outcomes as mapped to the revised National Occupational Standards for Hypnotherapy, and thereby rendering you eligible, on its successful completion, for full Membership of the GHR, and Registration with the CNHC.

The Diploma Course consists of a ten-day Intensive course over a fortnight (ie week-days), plus FOUR weekends (a month apart), totalling 120 hours. There is also a substantial amount of home-work (330 hours) – reading, internet-research, essays, etc (and exams at the end), for the full Advanced Diploma in Hypnotherapy.

The initial ten week-days over a fortnight, and one weekend, are the SAME for BOTH routes. You may decide which route to take after attaining the Certificate in Hypnotherapy.

A few full Diploma courses run each year – see the website for details (www.european-college.co.uk). The first part of these courses is also shared by those wanting the Diploma in Hypnotherapy.

In addition, there will be other courses (perhaps weekend courses) run during the year – for those who want the Diploma qualification, or those who intend to join the Continuation course for the Advanced Diploma at a later date. (Watch the College's website for details).

N.B. Dr Hearne endeavours to teach most of each course himself.

We also run occasional intensive courses for a Certificate in Past-life Therapy & Spirit Release Therapy for people who are just interested in those fields for self-knowledge, or for suitably qualified therapists wishing to add these fields to their skills. Inevitably in hypnotherapy, some clients spontaneously enter these areas.

THE SYLLABUS

DIPLOMA AND ADVANCED DIPLOMA IN HYPNOTHERAPY The first part of the Advanced Diploma course is shared exactly, by the Diploma students. (ie a 10-day Intensive course, and a weekend).

These are probably the best such courses in Britain. Consisting of a mixture of theory and practice, the courses explore all the main aspects of hypnosis - providing a solid and broad base. The material is presented simply and the practice sessions are interesting, and often revealing. Students almost universally report that much self-discovery results from the practice sessions and the topics covered.

(About half the time on each day is spent practising techniques, and observing demonstrations – usually by Dr Hearne.)

Altered states. The unconscious. The stages of hypnosis. Catalepsy, cataplexy. Progressive relaxation. Ego-strengthening. Awakening. Principles of induction. The voice. Stages of a session. Using giggling to your advantage. Eye-fixation induction. Laws & principles of suggestion. Embedded instructions. Suggestibility tests. The Stanford Hypnotic Suggestibility Scale. Ocular activity. Permissive / authoritarian.

It is universally recognised that the American psychiatrist Milton Erickson developed hypnosis by leaps and bounds. He brought much creativity, ingenuity and perception into hypnotherapy. Erickson pointed out that every person has within themselves all the resources necessary to overcome any problem and that the function of the therapist is to enable the person to access and utilise those resources. This weekend is devoted to his remarkable and widely used techniques.

General psychology module. This weekend is designed to provide a comprehensive background to the subject of general psychology. Areas relevant to hypnotherapy will be stressed, including significant studies in social psychology, non-verbal communication, personality development, psychometrics, and experimental psychology. The exciting and newly discovered phenomenon of reverse-speech will be explained. We also explain genetics, the human nervous system, the mind / body link, and the neurophysiology of hypnosis.

This weekend provides some significant hypnotherapeutic techniques for dealing with several conditions, including obsessive-compulsive disorders, gastro-intestinal problems, anorexia nervosa, bulimia, and skin disorders. The enhancement of sporting performance is also covered, with the provision of a special script. Another script, under the topic of aesthetic hypnosis, deals with frown marks.

Therapeutic psychology module. This weekend looks at abnormal psychology, the unconscious, major theorists (Freud, Jung, etc), the DSM IV classificatory system, defence mechanisms, classical and operant conditioning, placebos, psychosomatics, drugs, tolerance, identifying drug users, false memory syndrome and the new concept of the 'virtual self'. Summaries are given of various well-known therapies.

This is another highly practical weekend, dealing with : phobias (with scripts for fear of flying and fear of birds), systematic desensitisation, stress, road-rage, psycho-sexual problems including premature ejaculation, impotence, frigidity, vaginismus and psychogenic infertility, abuse / rape, blushing, anxieties, panic attacks, migraine, asthma and allergies, coming off pills.

This weekend includes several important dissociation methods, regression, automatic writing and drawing, age progression, time distortion, metacommunications, rebirthing and hypnodrama. We consider the various ethical issues in hypnotherapy and give advice on practice management. We also cover assertiveness, Rational Emotive Therapy, hypnotising children, subpersonalities, trauma-beings, and simple NLP techniques.

Hypnotherapy for disorders of sleep and dreams. The neurology and physiology of sleep and dreaming are taught. Disorders of the two states of sleep - Slow Wave Sleep (SWS), and Rapid Eye-movement Sleep (REM) - are described and scripts are provided for dealing with : SWS nightmares (pavor nocturnus), insomnia, snoring, teeth grinding (bruxism), enuresis, sleep walking / talking and sleep paralysis, the hypnotic induction of lucid dreams, and creativity enhancement. Hearne's method of converting REM nightmares into lucid dreams is covered, as is his technique for the sequential tracing of dream images (hypno-oneirography).

The brand new alphabet-dream-code method is explained in depth.

Hypnotherapy in pain control. The various strange phenomena of pain are investigated, including the real location of pain, and phantom limb pain. We look at the theories of pain perception, including the gate-control model. Laboratory studies are noted and the concept of hidden pain is explored. Scripts are provided for dealing with pain in eleven different ways. Hypnotic pain control is covered in obstetrics, surgery, cancer and dentistry. An extremely useful script is given for dealing with emotional pain (suffering) as a result of lost love.

CERTIFICATE IN PAST LIFE THERAPY & SPIRIT RELEASE THERAPY

Inevitably, when having ordinary hypnotherapy, some clients spontaneously report finding themselves in an apparent past life - which reveals to their satisfaction, the cause of their current problem. In addition, some clients will report that someone else - a spirit - is located within them. Our Diploma Course on Past Life Therapy & Spirit Releasing Therapy covers these areas which are becoming increasingly significant and essential for a proper holistic treatment.

EXAMINATIONS

Students on the Diploma in Hypnotherapy (also, the Certificate in Past Life Regression & Spirit Release Therapy) course are assessed throughout. If they are not up to standard, examinations may be required – however, this is a very rare occurrence.

Examinations are essential on the Advanced Diploma in Hypnotherapy course.

Those students on the Diploma in Hypnotherapy course will be required to:

- A Submit 2 essays of at least 1,500 words (Advice is given on writing essays)
- B Undergo a viva voce examination.
- C Sit two written examinations of 90 minutes each.
- D Submit case-histories.

MISSED DAYS

Each day of the course is important and needs to be attended. There can't be gaps in your knowledge and experience in therapy training. If you should unavoidably miss a day, or a weekend, we can arrange special teaching for you, at additional cost.

YOUR SUITABILITY

In a study conducted at Reading University involving psychology students, it was discovered that academic exams (school exams and first university exams) were not accurate predictors of the final degree result. It was realised that the two important factors - rather than paper qualifications - were intelligence and, above all, motivation.

It is also clear, says Dr Hearne, that many superbly academically qualified persons are 'hopeless' therapists, having no rapport with clients.

Hearne has observed that many of the best therapists are intelligent lay persons who have a natural caring nature and have gained, say, a hypnotherapy qualification. They greatly improve the quality of life for their clients and at the same time develop a sense of self-worth, accomplishment and achievement.

It is the policy of this college to encourage as students persons who primarily possess a keen and enduring interest in therapeutic techniques and can relate well to other human beings. Academic qualifications may or may not be an advantage. To us, your attitude is more important.

OUR SUITABILITY

When it comes to selecting a suitable training course in hypnotherapy you need to establish that you are dealing with a reputable organisation, where both the structure of the course and background of the teaching staff are appropriate. Otherwise, clearly, apart from the possibility of receiving poor training, there may conceivably be later consequences concerning the status of your qualification.

We, at the European College of Hypnotherapy are fully confident that we possess adequate standing, and we strive to train students through a well-designed course to a high level of theoretical knowledge and practical competence.

We are in the forefront of introducing exciting new techniques into hypnotherapy and intend to conduct and publish research on several of the many interesting phenomena.

CODE OF PRACTICE

Students who have successfully passed the examinations for our Diploma must sign a Code of Practice before receiving the Diploma certificate. This is to ensure that ethical and professional standards are followed.
